TENNIS LEVELS

Red Level:

children start developing the core skills of movement and coordination, take part in lots of fun activities and play short matches and in teams. Children use slower red balls and play on a smaller court. Normally from 4-8 years.

Orange Level: children learn new shots and techniques to help them rally on a bigger court using faster orange balls. Competition includes slightly longer matches, most often played as part of a team. Normally from 7-9 years.

Green Level: children will further improve their technique and tactics, using green balls and playing more matches on a full court. Normally from 8-10 years.

Full Tennis: children use the whole court and normal tennis balls. Normally from 11 years.

Squad Sessions: for talented players wanting to play in competitions and commit to training.
